

Live and Let Live

In recent years, the environment and ecological issues always hit the headline. For instance, a wide range of ocean had been polluted by oil that emitted through boats and animals are in danger of extinction. From the aforementioned affairs, there are several things deserving our efforts and attention. To begin with, even stricter laws are urgently needed to regulate human beings. Government itself should spare no efforts to advocate even more practical slogans and strategies, such as four R. In my opinion, this slogan has been deeply kept in every single person's mind and people exactly put it into practice though it still leaves a lot to be desired. Furthermore, researchers and scientists alike are obligated to develop an discover alternative fossil fuels in order to reduce the wastes which do great harm to our nature.

As for me, I also do some efforts in my daily life. To begin with, I always take MRT system or public transportations while heading to a remote destination. If I choose to take a taxi or ride on a motorcycle, it must not be environmental-friendly. Besides, without second thought, no sooner had I gone to cafeteria than I bought a pair of chopsticks. Last but not least, I prefer a shower bath instead of bating in a tub. This really saves a great amount of water.

Only when the whole society recognize the truth that "We have only one earth" can we lead an even more enjoyable and peaceful lives. People all over the world must take the concept about environment protection for granted and exactly put into effect. Moreover, we should know that a great number of creatures has been extinct because of human beings' desire. Hope every creature on earth can live and let live.
