

Get Rid of Your Plans in Leisure Time

It is necessary to make plans for our study time; however, should we also plan for our leisure time? In my opinion, I prefer not planning for my leisure time. There are some reasons as follows.

First, I think that leisure time should be “leisure”. Therefore, it doesn’t make sense if we still manage to plan for our leisure time. Second, as the picture below, we can see the man relaxing on a tree, feeling very peaceful. I don’t think he did plan to sit on a tree in this lovely afternoon. Thus, if we want to fully relax ourselves, leave the school book out of our sight. Last but not least, sometime people get furious at making plans. It is important to feel happy in leisure time. Why should we make ourselves so angry at the plans we made?

As for me, what I do is to indulge myself in the perfect moment in my leisure time. I don’t need to think about anything, let alone making plans. I can feel every pieces of my skin breathing in the breeze and under the sunlight. My mind goes blank during the very time, but I feel very satisfied and relaxed. There’s no need to arrange my leisure time.

However, there are still some advantages of planning for our leisure time though I don’t agree with them. According to those “leisure time planners,” they won’t feel as if they are wasting time. Sometimes they feel nothing if they just do nothing. In their viewpoints, leisure time should also be meaningful. Also, they want to make the most of their leisure time, that’s why they make plans.

People have various opinions about planning for leisure time. I will just stick to my principle, go with that flow and let it be. The only thing we have to do in leisure time is to relax and forget about worries. Enjoy your leisure time!
