The Dream Run 5K

If I'm going to hold a 5K marathon, the theme would be the Dream Run. You might wonder why it'd be ^{the} Dream Run not ^{the} other kinds of run, and what is "the Dream Run 5K"?

It's easy to understand actually. As a participant of the Dream Run 5K, he or she should wear his or her pajamas. The Dream Run 5K wants to make every participants feel that they're running in their dreams. Sometimes, we may dream that we're running all the night. Now, the Dream Run is going to make this dream come true. It will not be an unreal dream anymore, it will really happen in our lives.

This marathon will be held at the river bank in the evening. Participants should wear their own pajamas which might be a dress or a T-shirt. As we know about the unreal dream, never had we run in it without any difficulties. For example, you might have ^{an experience to be chased} by a strange man. Therefore, the Dream Run 5K is not so easy that everyone can complete it. During the 5K, each kilometer will have different missions. For instance, in the first kilometer, there is a pillow fight waiting for you. Not until you win the fight do you have the permission to run the other kilometers. It sounds exciting, doesn't it?

However, the Dream Run isn't just bare fun. All the income will be donated to the charity to help those who have the serious problems to sleepwalking. Not only can this marathon make more people have fun but help those patients with sleepwalking ^{problems} have better cure. This is the target that I want to hold the Dream Run.

If this marathon is held in Taiwan, welcome to join it. Let's have fun together and help others together!
